LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

HEY CNH KEY CLUBBERS!

The holidays have officially begun—I hope you all are enjoying your winter break! Bundle up, start that warm fire, and sip some hot cocoa!

Because it's the holidays, we should be more inspired than ever to serve and give to those who aren't as fortunate as us. Hopefully most of you have been working hard towards the C of our District Project, Combat Poverty: doing canned food drives, helping out at shelters, and serving out the fullest! Aside from service, I hope all of you have been spending time together with the people you cherish most. :)

For you southern CNH kids, Rose Floats is coming up! Let's make a beautiful float for Jesse to sit in! This year will be amazing!

If you haven't noticed, the CNH Key is PURELY Graphic Standards from the layout to the font to the colors! If you want to create newsletters, articles, brochures, etc, I really recommend you to use Graphic Standards. You can find some templates on here:

FALL RALLY SOUTH

Laura Nguyen | DIVISION 4N | La Quinta High

The morning of November 14, 2009, the alarm rang and in the midst of the ringing the idea had stricken me as it was the day of Fall Rally South! The start of something that would ever soon be the greatest spirit rally ever, as it started my first big event in Key Club.

“ November 14th was the day I had been waiting since the summer of this year. ”

- Ashley Wu

All of us had gotten dropped off at Bolsa Grande High School to get hyped up and fill the spirit into our bodies for the rest of the day. The crowds of people in front of the High School was so over populated that it was almost like a bazaar of people trying to buy every single item and those items were spirit items. Everyone was dressed up to represent our “Baby Otter Division” to express that we weren’t just the baby division but we were a division to look out for as the most spirited division ever. As we screamed our hearts we felt so accomplished that we were going to be great.

We left with our spirits; we all boarded the bus to start our venturous road to Six Flags Magic Mountain. The hour of playing little games on the bus and the songs of 100 bottles on the wall had come to a disperse as we all saw the approaching busses, hundreds of buses filling up the entrance calling out of the windows “HOW DO YOU FEEL!?”. Of course we had taken the challenge even if it was covered by walls of the bus. Fall Rally had started as we shouted our first cheer; the entrances were filled with kids all around the states, with different colored t-shirts. Walking into the park we find that our session was the last session and our times to look for. Going through the entire site seeing and roller coasters, yelling out the fun and craziness of Six Flags helped bring us all ready for our session. And in mean time our session had come, running through the crowds we finally arrived at the theater, filled with all arrays of colors holding thunder sticks, pom poms and etc.

“ We looked fierce, sporting our spirit gear. ”

- Michelle Le

Arriving into the theater gasping for air the many people that were going to be battling us, the little division sitting in the front with their teal colors brightening up the whole room, that made me happy and happy to see all together. We all started cheering trying to be the loudest and most participants. Shouting our division’s name in the air, clearly wanting to win and to have fun, and suddenly the session started. There were numerous introductions and even Bugs Bunny had joined into the fun.

When the auctions started numbers were popping to and from every division as many of the CNH Key Board Members were being auctioned off with much money. As the dollar

“ May the tradition never graduate. ”

- Denise Huynh

signs and numbers increased it was already time for LTGS to arrive on the stage. As we cheered for Khanh we sadly did not leave with her as we did not win our beloved LTG.

Even though we did not win we surely did get top four in the spirit rally with our stomp, 4West’s and the other divisions. The seals had dominated with their cheer and population; everyone had known they had won. Even though we did not win our hearts were set high for next year to dominate, as the day came to and ending, we all left on the bus the way we had came with our excitement and hopes of fun for next year.

HEY CNH!

This year, I had the amazing privilege of attending Fall Rally as a Lieutenant Governor. It was my first and, sadly, last Fall Rally as I am a senior this year. However, I LOVED Fall Rally and I am so thrilled that I was able to go this year and have a blast.

My favorite part of Fall Rally by far was the rally session. I was so pumped up about the spirit, and I was also very impressed about our accomplishments with Pediatric Trauma Prevention. Overall, I think that the spirit session embodies the three things that make Key Club unlike anything else: service, spirit, and FUN!

However, I started my day with crushed hopes. My division had travelled five hours across state borders to get to Six Flags, and upon our arrival, my assistants and I lost track of our spirit supplies. Six out of seven boxes of pompoms and visors were locked on the bottom of the bus. I was so sad about not having our supplies, and I thought that the members would lose their spirit too.

As we started to fill up the stands in the Golden Bear Theater, all of my fellow Phoenixes really started feeling pumped up. We had such a blast cheering and trying to be more enthused and louder than everyone else! We also got very excited about Pediatric Trauma Prevention, collecting over $400 in cash on the spot to pull ahead as the leader in PTP funds for the spirit session. I was so proud to be part of Division 28 North!

This Fall Rally definitely was one of my best Key Club moments. I realized that we didn't need pompoms and extra material goods to be spirited. I realized that despite our distance from many other divisions, we can unite in District-wide service. Most importantly, though, I realized that we were there to tie all of these elements of service and spirit together. My love for Key Club grew that day, even though I thought I couldn't love Key Club any more than I did!

" As a senior in high school, I couldn't feel anymore ecstatic. "

- Pyline Tangsuwanich

B-E-A-Utifying Our Nature

Nature is filled with beauty and needs protection from all our debris. A great way to start is doing a beach clean up!

Working with the Human Broom organization, we cleaned up Huntington Beach with other volunteers from around the area.

From there, we were given gloves, bags, and a score sheet which we used to keep track of what we found and how many.

Volunteers were split into many groups with an assigned leader.

The beach was literally filled with figures bending, picking, scoring, and walking. Cigarettes, metal, plastic, countless number of items were found. Some even found parts to a dead lobster.

After about two hours of cleaning, everyone was to report back to the blue tents where we turned in our trash bags, score sheet, and throw away our gloves.

Beach clean ups are one of the easiest ways to clean up your environment. It can also be at a local park or some simple gardening. All in all, we are saving our world!

H.O.P.E.

H.O.P.E. I actually enjoy going to this event after the last few weeks. The job is so much more fun with friends. Last week we were filing a few papers, but since I had Scott and Andy with me it was actually really fun. We were messing around, but since we got so used to the system our work was still productive. We also tutor children around the elementary school level. It's not as hard as it sounds. Once you start, it starts to become a habit. H.O.P.E. is also on a Tuesday which is not such a busy day, therefore giving me the opportunity to volunteer and help the kids. I also find two hours not that much to spare to help children in need of help for school. I encourage the key clubbers to just sacrifice at least one hour to make a difference. Think about what you can do take make a difference today.

Giving Thanks

Michelle Hour | DIVISION 4N | Garden Grove

On Sunday, November 22, the Key Club Board of Garden Grove High School gathered up at a local supermarket to conduct a meeting, have a fun social, and make Thank You cards for local firefighters and policemen. We held the meeting to plan out some fundraisers, upcoming events, and organize DCON deadlines ahead of time. Eating dim sum at the supermarket also filled our stomachs as we held the meeting. The meeting was very productive and we got a lot done - we had prepared over five fundraising events to come. For DCON, we planned our payment deadlines, which is important as we do not want to miss the final payment deadline, or risk stressing ourselves out about it. After the meeting, we began on our Thank You cards. Some were colorful, some were simple, and some were funny - all of them were thoughtful and heartwarming. With the intention of having the firefighters and policemen realize their contribution to our city, we wanted the cards to look especially awesome. We spent awhile on these cards, and when we finished, it was great seeing what we had just created. Seeing their faces when we give them these Thank You cards will be priceless.

JOHNSON LIU | DIVISION 07S | FRANKLIN KEY CLUB

Hey Division Seven South! How was your Thanksgiving? I know for sure that for those who went to the November Division Council Meeting/potluck banquet started their Thanksgiving with lots of fun and excitement.

The November Divisional Council Meeting and banquet took place at Franklin High School's multi-purpose room on the 20th of November from 7pm to 9pm. It brought a Division Seven South Monster twist to the traditional Thanksgivings festivities.

The event started with the usual Divisional Council Meeting. First, our awesome Lieutenant Governor talked about past and future events and news, like Fall Rally North and the upcoming District Convention and Candidate Training Conference. Also, officers from each of the clubs in Division Seven South talked about how well their club was doing, the past events that they did, future events that they are planning on doing, and any else that they wanted to bring up.

After the Divisional Council Meeting, we went straight into the pot luck banquet which was the highlight of our evening. A lot of people brought food, both store bought and home made, to the banquet. There were fried rice, spaghetti, fried chicken, roasted beef, ham, macaroni and cheese, and for desert there were cookies, brownies, ice cream, soda, and lots of other things to feast on. All of the food was spread out in a row of tables and everyone went down in lines buffet style to pick the food that they wanted. Everyone seemed to become livelier, happier even, when they finally got to sit down and eat their food.

While everyone was eating, they got to talk to their friends and to meet other Key Clubbers from other schools in the division. People were catching up with their friends, talking about the highly anticipated events that were coming up, and of course they were talking about the food. The food was so good that there were people who got up and went to get seconds or even thirds. There was hardly any food left over. After the banquet was finished, everyone went outside to socialize a feel more times before they went home.

All of the dishes, snacks, drinks, and deserts tasted great. The day was great. The weather was great. The Key Clubbers that were there and the atmosphere were great. Actually, the whole November Divisional Council Meeting/banquet was great!

DANIKA MENDOZA | DIVISION 10 SOUTH | MONTEBELLO HIGH SCHOOL

Recently this past week, Key Club Organizations from both Montebello High School and Schurr High School teamed up for a successful Thanksgiving Luncheon event held at Montebello's own Senior Citizen Center. This annual event was hosted by The Kiwanis Club with special invitations to both schools for our anticipation in past years. Officers, members, and Kiwanis officials joined together to give back to our community of Montebello providing meals to our local members.

Early Thanksgiving morning, students from both schools volunteered their holiday morning to help serve food to low-income families of the local community. Tasks ranged from decorating, setting up the dining hall, preparing food in the kitchen, serving meals, and being helpful attendants. The event proved successful as Key Club members were able to feed countless families, ranging from all ages, a hearty and fulfilling thanksgiving meal. Key Club Members took from this day community service activity, but ultimately the personal satisfaction of bringing comfort, joy, and the ultimate gift of thanks to our small community of Montebello.

NHI TRAN | DIVISION 7S | MONTEREY TRAIL HIGH SCHOOL

The Sunday before Thanksgiving our school participated in an event at a shelter for women and their children who need help getting back on their feet. In order to cut down on our carbon footprint the members carpooled to the event with each other. We arrived there early in the morning and were divided into tasks almost immediately.

One of the groups was directed to the kitchen. They were in charge of helping with preparing brunch for the residents. The food that was prepared was French toast, eggs, bacon, hash browns, donuts and various types of juices. Guided by the cook, the students helped to mix batter for the French toast to be dipped into. Various pieces of bread was dipped into the sweet batter and laid aside to be cooked. We had left over batter which was used to make delicious special eggs, since they had cinnamon and vanilla in them already. The eggs were simply put into the pan and cooked by two of the members. Bacon was baked after laying the strips on some wax paper. Then the hash browns were cooked on the grill after being broken apart in its frozen form.

After the food was all cooked they were then given out to the residents by the volunteers. The volunteers lined up and stood beside the cook and gave the servings to the residents. I was part of this group and it was warming to see the children ask their mom "can I have two donuts?" and the mom replying "eat all your eggs and maybe". As the brunch was ending and all the food was eaten, we then moved on to the warehouse.

As we went outside towards the warehouse one of the mothers asked one of the students to hold their child and take care of him while she took care of her other child. Active member Simone stepped up and held him, rocked and fed that baby for a good couple of hours. I thought it was one of the cutest babies ever and Simon thought so too. Seeing the baby being lulled to sleep by her was a

The rest of the group walked over to the warehouse to join up the other group. This group was in charge of organizing the warehouse, hanging up clothes, getting rid of out of season clothes and cleaning in general. As we arrived the members were working intensely at their job. We got right into work along side them. We folded, hung up, put aside, and stored various clothes, bedding, and essential items into their correct location.

Soon there were no more clothes to work with and we started organizing and packing away clothes hangers and sweeping the place. We all sat down and started sorting, listening to the radio and talking about random topics. We laughed about various objects found and finished soon.

C: Combating Poverty

SHARRY PHAM | DIVISION 07S | MONTEREY TRAIL

“In Uruguay, more than half a million children and adolescents are living in poverty. Through the creation and management of socio-educative and cultural centers, UNICEF will help at-risk adolescents by providing education, family counseling, job skills, recreation and social services. Funds raised through Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF will support programs like these separately needed in Uruguay,” printed on the UNICEF boxes.

Poverty reduction starts with children because they should not be dying from preventable causes. To begin this, our club decided to participate in UNICEF.

The past month for combating poverty, Monterey Trail Key Club has participated in Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF. UNICEF focuses on areas such as child survival and development, basic education and gender equality, policy advocacy and partnerships, HIV/AIDS as well as child protection. Our club requested dozens of UNICEF boxes for members to go around and Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF on Halloween.

On these UNICEF boxes, there has a description on what to say to the donor with a little reminder reminding the participants to say ‘thank you!’ There were about seventy-eight paid members who participated in this event/project, including myself. All in all, we gathered up a sum of $816.50 and send it into the

It has been our most successful year partaking in UNICEF. We fundraised so much for Kiwanis International. With the economy being low, even I, myself was surprised to see that we received so many donations from people throughout the month of October and November. I hope that the money will be able to help many children and make a difference in someone’s life.

VIVI LE | DIVISION 07S | MONTEREY TRAIL

Hey Key Clubbers! Our club did its part in helping the less fortunate by participating in the “Lose the Shoes” Grassroot Soccer United Tournament at Franklin High School. The money fundraised from the event went towards people in Africa that have been struck with the unfortunate ailment that is HIV/AIDS. The Grassroot Soccer United (GRSU) encourages and supports youth to help out kids around the globe receive the things they need to live a happy and healthy lifestyle.

Although I personally didn’t get to join in on the soccer, I still had a whole bunch of fun cheering for our schools teams. We had three teams from our school participating: Team Chaos, J-Street, and The Fingerlickers. Our teams played their hearts out and pulled out some radical moves (such as Madeline Trans’s chest bump for the ball) to score some wins.

Wait, actually, I did get to play a little! My friends and I were able to play in between games and during down time. Running up and down the field was tiring enough, but playing with no shoes made me feel even more exhausted. Maybe I’m just out of shape, but for them to play for about five hours is crazy stuff!

Despite not winning, everybody had a good time while playing and/or watching. I’m proud of our monsters for fundraising the money and playing their hardest. Watch out for us at the next tournament!

EYVETTE SOU | DIVISION 07 SOUTH | SHELDON

For the month of December, Sheldon Key Club participated in many events that helped families in need. Each event has opened our hearts, pulled out tears, and allowed each member to understand another person's life.

Our first event is well-known; however, it is something each of our members will remember participating in each year:

UNICEF.

Although it has been over a month since we have started collecting boxes, our club has finally counted each one. We finalized our total to over $800 with around 50 boxes. Sheldon Key Club is proud to announce another successful year in raising money for UNICEF. We all hope this amount of money will help the children in need in Uruguay.

Another event that Sheldon Key Club has participated in is Toy Box. Toy Box is a yearly event hosted by Mr.

Bob Fendal (one of our very own teachers at school) that helps the less fortunate purchase Christmas gifts for their children. Every year, the location changes since this event is a "secret that Santa blessed us with." This year, the event was located at Valley High School, where the cafeteria was large. Toys were set up in large rows for the shoppers, all at very low prices.

We served breakfast to them when they showed up. We helped escorting children to another location when their parents shopped for their gifts. We helped carry their toys when they decided which ones to get. We helped wrap each present when they were finished. We helped put tags from Santa onto each gift.

Each hug, thank you, and smile allowed each of our volunteers to notice how much we have helped our community. However, the one thing that touches our hearts the most is the cause we are all working for. This is emphasized when a nice man showed his thanks by caroling for everyone.

Not only did his voice bring out tears, but the fact that he thanked us for giving him and his children a chance for a nice Christmas created a warm feeling inside the facility, allowing many to become thankful for helping out on this day.

Our latest event that we have started on is our very own Can Drive. We placed bags outside of houses throughout several neighborhoods. After a week, we will pick up the bags and donate the canned food to the Sacramento Food Bank.

Hopefully, our effort will help many families have a wonderful holiday this year. Happy Holidays Key Clubbers; keep up the great service.

“Lose the Shoes” 3 on 3 Soccer Tournament

Franklin’s second annual “Lose the Shoes” 3 on 3 Soccer Tournament was at Franklin High School’s athletic fields on the 21st of November. This event fundraises to support the Grassroot Soccer United (GRSU) and to also help raise awareness to their cause. GRSU is a non-profit organization that provides youth worldwide with the knowledge, life skills, and support to live healthier lives against HIV/AIDS. Their program works chiefly in countries vastly affected by AIDS like Zambia, South Africa, and Zimbabwe. GRSU are continuously improving their innovative HIV/AIDS life skills curriculum, and are utilizing the popularity of soccer and its role-models to increase their success in the global fight against the devastating disease.

There were many teams, mostly other Key Clubbers that are from other schools in Division 7 South, who came to the event to play in the soccer tournament. The tournament was double elimination style so every team got to play at least twice even when they lost during the first round. The games were played on modified fields and the players had to play barefoot or with only their socks on. Only three members from each team were allowed to be on the field at a time and the teams were allowed two substitutes to be on the sidelines.

Food and water were provided for people who were participating in the tournament. The pizza from Costco tasted great and there were also fruits and energy bars available. The water wasn’t bad either. Music was also being played while the tournament was taking place.

After the soccer tournament was over, there was a gift basket raffle. People who signed up for the tournament got raffle tickets to invest in the gift basket of their choice. The gifts were given to the event by the sponsors of our “Lose the Shoes”. The gifts included an iHome, a $25 Shell gift card, two $25 BestBuy gift cards, a “Mr. Pickles” shirt, and shampoo and perfume gift baskets.

A lot happened during the afternoon hours of this fun filled day. Many participants went home tired and satisfied of an exciting event. There are millions of people and families in the world who are affected by HIV/AIDS and the dedication and enthusiasm of the people who came to this event really helps to make a difference. Hopefully, this annual event will become one of the most looked forward to events of Franklin High School’s Key Club for years to come. Thanks to all who came out on a chilly and windy day to help support GRSU and we hope to see your bright, smiley faces next year!

DUES

Stephanie Nguyen | DIVISION 4 NORTH | Garden Grove

Collecting dues is always a trouble spot for Garden Grove High School KEY Club, and this year was no different. Rules were being enforced much more strictly and the economy made many student's pockets just that much tighter. As a past treasurer, I understood the frustrations of collecting dues, making sure to collect that first 15 and send it in to Key Club International in time for the Early Bird dues deadline, so I tried to help as much as I could.

To entice the members at Garden Grove, we started new traditions. If students became paid members they would not only receive a KEY Club pin and membership card, they were also eligible for new features of the club. The first is birthday cookies: at the last meeting of every month, those who celebrated their birthday during that month and was a paid member were given cookies as a present from us. Another is eligibility for recognition as a Top Two Otter with the most service hours or as the Otternaut of the Month. The first award is given to the top two otters with the most hours of that month, and those who win it are given gift cards to places like Jamba Juice and Starbucks. The second is a prestigious award because it recognizes members who are truly active in KEY Club. They receive an awesome "I'm a proud Otternaut!" shirt and an additional prize. Finally the last is if they became paid members, they would be allowed to attend District Convention, the biggest annual KEY Club event.

Dues are important because they help pay for things like DCON or the KEY newsletter, which we stress at every meeting. Becoming paid members only help you because the money eventually comes back to you, but only in a different form. This Year at Grove, we were able to quickly collect the necessary dues, and by my estimates, the number of paid members exceed those of last year, increasing membership, which had been my goal all along.

ANDREA GABALDON | DIVISION 4 EAST | CANYON HIGH SCHOOL

Our club is still turning in our membership dues to school. You can not join Key Club if you do not pay your dues so that was a key factor in enticing our members to turn in their money to us. There were many different ways we advertised our club. We put up flyers all over the school, had board members go on the morning announcements on the television, and had club meetings during school. It was pretty simple to make our members pay their dues. They could not be apart of Key Club if they did not pay so it would be their loss in the long run. They could not turn in their application without the receipt that confirms they paid their dues. We really stressed that so I do not think that anyone that is a member of our club has not paid their dues. If not, they should be turning them in soon.

COMMITTEES

MANDY LAM | DIVISION 07S | MONTEREY TRAIL

Our club implements a system of four different committees in order to achieve success and organization. The committees are labeled as Public Relations, Class Representatives, Project Committee, and Media Committee. Applications were submitted by interested members in order for our board members to distinguish the most suitable individuals to take position upon these committees. President, Jonhny Pham, made sure each application was so each board member, who was responsible for their own committee, can deliver the best options with no criticizing or favoring. Each board member is head of a committee.

I, as vice-president, am responsible for the Class Representative committee that consists of one individual from each grade level. Their position follows the main tasks of vice-president by assisting the search for community service events weekly. After finding an event, they would e-mail myself and Jonhny with the event name, date, location, and a description for approval. They would then contact the coordinator to schedule our club for volunteering. If any board members are unable to attend a certain event, members of the Class Representative Committee would have the opportunity to establish greater leadership skills by monitoring and preparing for that event. A check-in template is given to them so they can create an organized list of members who signed up for that event. They would then contact the members about the event a few days prior as a reminder. This Class Representative Committee helps the search for community service events that our club attends weekly.

Secretary, Sharry Pham, is responsible for the Public Relations Committee that consists of one member, who assists her in monitoring our member's activeness. They distinguish a member who should be entitled to our monthly Member of the Month Certificate for their commitment to service and contributions to our club. This committee organizes the progress of all our members.

Treasurer, Mandy On, is responsible for the Project Committee that consists of two Project Managers and a few other members to organize events such as our annual Talent Show, Pancake Breakfast, and Relay for Life team. Much preparation is needed in order to organize a successful event. This Project Committee organizes events held by our club.

Bulletin editor, Julie Nguyen, is responsible for the Media Committee that consists of a few members, who assists her in creating a scrapbook, producing fliers, recording videos and photos, and updating the website. This committee covers anything that is affiliated with media and technology regarding our club.

All the committees now hold a monthly meeting with all the board members in order to share their progress and follow-up with one another. Each board member also holds two meetings with their individual committees to discuss and assign their duties. This system creates order that is essential to the success of our club.

Hey Key Clubbers! Had a Rockin' Thanksgiving? Laguna Creek has been adding many new additions to our committee. This will assist our spirit coordinator and our historian. The spirit coordinator committee members would check in every week after a club meeting and ask if there is anything new that would concern them. Usually, our spirit committee would bring people in to cheer them on since the spirit coordinator can't do everything. Our committee consists of 3-5 members in each position.

Our committee members are very spirited and hyped up all over the place. They make sure no one is left not cheering and give it all the spirit they got. Way to bring on the spirit!

Another committee board we have is Historian. Basically, whenever they attend events, they will take pictures and send them to our lovely Cristina Rose historian who will create an amazing scrapbook with all the pictures throughout the whole year. Whenever the historian isn't able to make it, they will fill in for her. In our committee, we have one to two dedicated members who were willing to join and help out. Laguna Creek has dedicated members who are willing to join in with the fun.

Laguna Creek committee members are dedicated to whatever they do. Overall, committee members have been doing very well. Laguna Creek is very involved and will continue to be strong and get involved!
